HOMEWORK:

There will be homework for almost each class meeting, however it is not graded. But the questions on quizzes, tests and exams may be similar to the examples of the textbook and the homework assignments. Do the reading assignments before attempting the homework. READ THE BOOK.

QUIZZES, TESTS And FINAL EXAM:

There will be a short quiz worth 10 points approximately weekly, three tests worth 50 points each, and one final exam worth 100 points. The 3 test scores, the best 10 quiz score, and the final exam score are used to compute the final average.

I expect you to attend all scheduled classes on time and stay the entire class period. If you miss a class meeting you are responsible for any assignments or announcements made. Make-up tests and quizzes will NOT be given unless extraordinary and documented circumstances prevent attendance at the regular examination period, you will be graded as zero score for those tests and quizzes. Sickness requires a doctor's excuse. If you are not sick enough to see a doctor, you are well enough to take the tests.

OFFICE VISIT:

You are welcome to come to the office to ask any question. You are required to come to the office, at the office hour or by an appointment, to review what has been tested, if you got the score below 69% of total grade score in quizzes, tests and final exam.
